Internet Governance BAROMETER (MAY 2015)
IG Barometer indicates the presence of specific IG issues in the public policy debate in comparison to the previous month

Cybersecurity
New arrangements on information security cooperation emerge between NATO and EU, between China and Russia, and within EU member states (through newly adopted European Agenda on Security). In USA, State Secretary Kerry outlines US Internet development policy and declares that US will use sanctions and other policy tools in addressing cyber-policy issues. Cybercrime news: hacker claims to have hijacked plane’s firewall; Russian hackers plan to attack banks worldwide.

Global IG Architecture
No new developments

IANA Transition
Fadi Chehadé announces departure from ICANN in March 2016. Will he see transition through? Transition unlikely to happen by 30 September, but work progresses: Naming community reviewing the submissions it received on its second draft proposal; CCWG-Accountability calls for input on its proposed accountability enhancements.

ICANN and New Domains
.sucks controversy continues as fees remain high

Online Privacy & Data Protection
In USA, House passes USA Freedom Act with the aim of reforming NSA: tech companies, civil liberties and privacy activists urge White House to pull back efforts to weaken encryption or include law enforcement “backdoors” on technology products. France passes new surveillance law despite a 24 hours before 1984 protest campaign; among others, law will require ISPs and phone companies to give up data upon request, and intelligence services will have the right to place cameras and recording devices in private homes and install keylogger devices.

Net Neutrality
Controversy surrounds new internet.org initiative (pitched as a philanthropic initiative to connect regions who do not yet have Internet access) over violations to net neutrality. Start-ups in India pulled out. In EU, the reference to net neutrality has been removed from Council document, prepared for third trilogue on Connected Continent package negotiations.

Jurisdiction
No major developments

E-commerce
EU Digital Single Market plans unveiled: a range of harmonisation measures proposed. On cryptocurrency, New York based NASDAQ stock market announced plans to leverage blockchain technology as part of an enterprise-wide initiative; GIP’s predictions accurate: even cryptocurrency can be prone to speculations on markets.
